President's Message

Filing season is coming to an end, and members in public accounting will soon be able to breathe a little easier. Also, we have seen a few hopeful signs that the economy might be turning around soon.

At our next meeting, we are fortunate to have William W. Acuff, CPA-CFF, CFP, presenting Fraud Prevention and Detection for Small Business. I think you will find this 2 hour A&A course interesting and valuable. During dinner, the chapter will be awarding $6,000 in scholarships. The scholarship committee, consisting of Diane Futch, Randy Whitelock, and Dharma Diaz-Azcuy, will be making the awards to the recipients. I think the students will also find our speaker's topic helpful.

I look forward to seeing everyone at the meeting.

Louis D. Olin
President of the DeKalb Chapter
